“Exploring the illusion of reality and the reality of illusion....”

Pirandello's 20th-century masterpiece opens on a bare stage where our actors are rehearsing. Six people - who claim to be characters from a play abandoned by their author - make a sudden appearance and seek new life by asking the actors to enact their drama.

Pirandello's brilliant exploration of the nature of reality versus illusion, truth versus artifice, and the workings of the creative process is presented in this recently updated version.

This play contains mature themes and language - parental guidance recommended.

Performances: Friday-Sunday, Sept. 23-25;
Thursday-Saturday, Sept. 29-Oct. 1, 2005

All performances at 8:00pm except Sunday at 2:00pm
Tickets : $12.00 ($10.00 seniors and students)
